I teach:

- Abstract Painting

My Education:

Liberal and Fine Art Studies at the University of Arizona, Tucson
Workshops/classes with a variety of locally and nationally known artists

About Me:

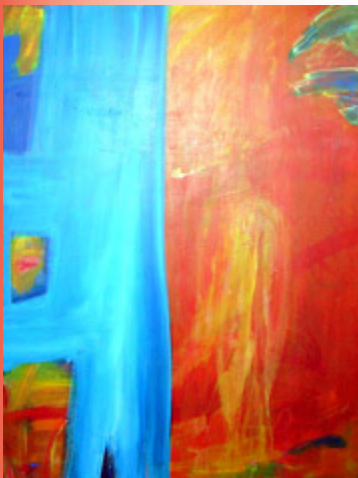

I studied photography and media arts in college, and then spent 20 years as an interior designer, while continuing to paint and study art. These life experiences have brought me to where I am today, a full-time working artist exhibiting in regional and national exhibitions, and continuing to hone my art practice.

Painting to me is my passion, my joy, my time to be close to God. When I am painting, I am totally in the present. Painting is a form of meditation, my way of expressing my feelings. I have a sense of satisfaction when people are moved by what I paint. At the core of my work is the interaction between mankind and the natural world.

I am a signature member of the Southern Arizona Watercolor Guild and the Tucson Plein Air Painters Society. I currently exhibit regionally and in competitive national art exhibits, most recently earning a Best of Show award at the Tubac Center of the Arts.

Teaching for me is an expression of Love, watching my students grow through experiencing Color, Shape, and Space is extremely satisfying. Working with each student to be authentic to their own artistic expression is not only rewarding visually, but also rewarding spiritually, as I see my students feel joy, play and have fun on their own path in this creative journey we all share.
